BUTLER & TANNER,
THE SELWOOD PRINTING WORKS,
FROME, AND LONDON.

PREFACE

SEVEN years have passed away since the publication of the first two volumes of this work, and in that period the science of bibliography has made great strides in public opinion. No section in the departments of our national library at Bloomsbury has increased with equal rapidity. Rarely indeed is a volume now published on a subject which has required some research, without the addition of a bibliography for the use of students. By this practice the publishers bear witness to the demand of the reader that he should be supplied with the opportunity of acquiring further information on any division of knowledge in which he is interested.

The third volume has been constructed on the plan used in its predecessors. Further experience has confirmed the opinion that the system then adopted is the best which can be framed for the benefit of the student. About 10,000 additional entries comprehending every division of literature are contained within the limits of the present volume. Throughout its preparation I have enjoyed the ready assistance of Miss Olive Crompton. The index has again been compiled by Mr. Edward Smith on the basis laid down by him seven years ago.

W. P. COURTNEY.
